25	some improvements that I think should be made by the school is having the freshman come in a week earlier before the upper classman get here. This will allow them to bond with one another and for them to get to know the campus.	4/28/2015 11:58 AM
26	The education and effectiveness of my professors has never been an issue, getting the vast protocols accomplished through administration has been my greatest setback	4/28/2015 11:38 AM
27	The teachers, at least the biology and chemistry teachers, are very knowledgeable and do a great job teaching. They are always willing to answer questions and help students. I've been frustrated with issues dealing with the cashiers office with refunds and then with the registrars office because my GPA wasn't calculated correctly. Luckily I calculated it myself and caught it. Also my major has been incorrect in the system for quite a while and getting that fixed has been nearly impossible. Essentially, more attention needs to be paid when dealing with people's wired accounts.	4/28/2015 10:56 AM

33	Leave Burse as President	4/27/2015 11:43 AM
34	n/a	4/27/2015 11:39 AM
35	I think Kentucky State University can truly measure up to the Howard's, FAMU's and Morehouse's if they embraced and invested whole-heartedly into their Black students. In light of all that's happening in the world today you'd think that a school specifically for black students would cater to their learning styles and abilities while challenging their critical thinking skills. Furthermore, KYSU needs to do a better job of prioritizing funds. Too much financial misappropriations, too much debt, too many things that needs to be fixed and/or updated throughout campus for our university to spending millions of dollars on boats and students are getting sick because its mold in the dorms... Unacceptable. Lastly, I hope President Burse make a conscious effort to better communicate with students in a more appropriate and timely fashion. This whole "6 credit hour, no balance" crap he pulled one month prior to education really left a bad taste in not only my mouth bu the mouths of most 2015 graduates.	4/27/2015 11:28 AM

39	I transferred from MSU and was nervous to attend KSU. I love the campus and I have met some amazing people. The professors have really made me feel at home and have worked hard to ensure I was successful this year. I have had a great experience at KSU.	4/24/2015 1:27 PM
40	More programs promoting diversity here at the school, as well as more activities	4/24/2015 1:10 PM
41	I feel like there are too many things being done. Honestly. Just let the students be the students they came here to be. The students that arent meant to survive, wont. Implementing mandatory attendance is NOT going to help the students. Mandatory attendance is making it harder, and from personal experience, I can say that the whole policy caused me so much unnecessary stress. School is hard and the ones that want to be here, will stay. The ones that are suppose to be here, will stay. Also, being college students, life is expensive. You have some students work 3 jobs just to stay afloat. When word gets around that balances are resulting in kids getting dropped, I find that MORE than ridiculous. I want this school to thrive as much as the next person. I want my children to want to choose Kentucky State University because that is where their mother went to school. With how things are going now, I am worried that the chances of the future student are scarce. With that being said, I respect what President Burse is doing, I respect that he is trying to get this University back to where it once was. I dont necessarily know what should be done to change the school, other than let the students be students. Like I said, if their motivated, if they are suppose to be here, then they will be here. Its that simple. Also, student morale is crucial at any institution. I think it would be nice to see our president and staff wearing our school colors and supporting the institution. It is also crucial for this University to receive support from the community. Kentucky State is Frankfort's University, but I dont see much community support. I think that is something that should be addressed as well.	4/24/2015 1:02 PM
42	I think we are rebuilding. We have been hurt and torn down, so it will take that much more to build us up. I do believe in five or ten years we will be back on track, and full of life, but I know we have a long way to go. I am from Frankfort, Ky. I grew up being involved in programs at this school, so I saw the campus at it best times, and at its worst times, but I know we will overcome. I can't think of Frankfort without this university. The community has grown so much by having our campus here. I am proud to say that I go here. If I could offer any advice, it would be to stop ignoring the people who know this campus the most. Stop ignoring the faculty, the staff, the alumni and most of all the students. We all love this university dearly, and we all can contribute to it re-growth. Thanks.	4/24/2015 12:59 PM

53	I love KSU, and I will continue to encourage students to attend, but I believe that the quality of education is limited because our professors during the prerequisite courses do not instruct on a collegiate level. Work seems to be not challenging, and elementary. 79	I believe KSU has helped me in life to understand certain things however not pertaining to getting me ready for employment I believe we need a larger campus and we need to start investing back into our university so student can have internships on campus and get an ideal of what their career will be like before they graduate. This way we'll be ready and know how to improve from a situation when it comes up later down the road. also i believe we can do better with encouragement, i think we(students and faculty) spent a lot of time say whats not allowed or what won't be tolerated rather than you did great, keep up the good work.	4/20/2015 12:02 PM

Changes are abrupt and we are given little to no notice of these changes. I also do not care for the popularity votes for SGA. For the most part, the school is ok. When it comes to anything with financial aid, registrar, or problems in general, it is really hard to get things accomplished and it is very frustrating.	4/16/2015 1:01 PM

Regarding the teachers at this institution, many need to be reviewed because I don't understand how they still have a job here. Many teachers do not even teach the material required for the course.
