1	in the criminal justice department, there need to be more hands on things, activities, on site investigations and organized field trips.	May 27, 2011 3:24 PM
2	The key to making KSU better is to making the student body perform. When bright students come here, they barely feel the need to perform because none of the other students are. Somehow, KSU mus raise its standards for its students and accepting D's as passing grades is a huge step in the wrong direction.	May 26, 2011 11:44 AM
3	we need to better prepare the students to go out and be able to compete in the work force and in gradutae programs after they leave kentucky state.	May 20, 2011 1:16 PM
4	More activities, programs, and resources for non-traditional students.	May 19, 2011 12:06 PM
5	I believe personally my satisfaction with KSU is with the department that I was in as a Behavioral and Social Scientist in the psychology major I had no choice but to excel with the department going in the direction it was going in. I feel like the past 2 years things have changed drastically in that department alone because of the new vision the faculty has and the understanding that we lacked experienced and resources before. I like the direction of the hands on learning experience it is going to cause a lot more departments to be on the move to grow and a lot more students to truly get involved with their work. I believe that this movement will change the mindset of a lot of students and I wish I could stick around to truly see it manifest. I think that if KSU increases the amount of grad programs they have offered as well they will probably peek a lot of people's interest in the university. Hopefully this can help some in KSU's future endeavors.	May 19, 2011 11:56 AM

8	overall, it is the student body that places a bad name on this university. It's understood that this univeristy is a second chance university; however, if students are put on academic probation for more than one semester, or envolved in a second chance summer program, and still not manage to meet a satisfactory level for academics, then that student shall write a letter to the school as to why they should return. Students should realize their mistakes in order to learn from them. It seems that majority of the students at KSU don't take the time out learn and be civil. In addition, I would say that the academic advising before a major is declared needs improvement. I believe that if I had more assistance, I would have graduated accordngling, not rushing my studies to exit the universitiy in a reasonable time. Nonetheless, I believe that KSU still holds a stern foundation. Like many other schools, it just needs a little work.	May 17, 2011 1:23 PM
9	The staff need to be more available to the non-tradiotional students, I had a horrible time getting anything done around here because I held a full-time working position.	May 13, 2011 1:33 PM

10	There should be more of effort to help students understand obvious things about their major such as. Each course build on one another. And this survey is not a suffcient survey. This should be more hands on, and more qualitative in the anaylsis of a students career here at Kentucky State University. Yes most students would consider a potentially long exit interview bothersome. However the few who don't will give some quality feed back that will be of true use. I reccomend offering an either or option for this survey. Either computer survey, or an exit interview. Please contact me at 7733869753 Patrick Lawrence	May 11, 2011 12:39 PM
11	don't focus so much on the atheletic part of college, focus more on the academic part of it. Carver hall is very run down and needs structural repairs.	May 11, 2011 8:43 AM
12	KYSU has some excellent professors, but the quality of student is terrible and the quality of life in the dorms is terrible. Overall, I regret coming here and would not recommend this school to others unless a great many changes are implimented to improve the university as a whole.	May 10, 2011 3:02 PM
13	Student moral must raise. I understand that KSU is a business but the social life on campus within our greek organizations and SGA must become stronger and recive more support from faculty/staff. Especially from those who are alumni from these various organizations.	May 10, 2011 11:57 AM
14	I love KSU! I think the atmosphere is very inviting and that most students don't take advantage of all the opportunities offered here at KSU. I would like to note that in ACE more major specific tutors are needed. Journalism writing differs a little from English style and I know multiple students struggled when they went to ACE for help in that area.	May 9, 2011 2:28 PM

17	What I think will improve KSU is Administration needs to stop just trying to get numbers here and actually look out for the student they need to remember that they were at some time in the same place students were trying to just get through so they can acheive making a better life for themselves. I think sometimes the administration doesn't care. Alot of faculty here cares about the student and other just don't the thing that drew me to KSU was the small classes and being able to interact more with your professor and they actually want to help you be sucessful I think the institution has lost it's way on that aspect.	May 9, 2011 1:26 PM
18	ksu is a great institution of higher learning but i believe that to attract incoming students as well as transfer and international students they should definitely add more majors, there aren't enough majors to choose from, they are limited and very general, as well as the financial aid department, there aren't enough professional employees over there that really know what they're doing, they're rude and very impatient and when a student has a problem financially many of the counselors over there are not encouraging or helpful at all to the students needs. They always give students the run around and tell them one thing one day and something else the next. They really need to work on choosing better people that are patient, friendly and can socially work with students because that is their job.	May 9, 2011 1:02 PM

Page 3, Q27. Please provide comments you think necessary to improve KSU in the future

19	Like I stated before, the inability for me to reach my financial aid advisor during stated work hours were a continued hassle throughout my stay at KSU.	May 9, 2011 12:36 PM
20	Provide opportunity for more students to experience activities off campus experiences such as Thurgood Marshall, and more buses on community service projects such as the one to New Orleans. Secondly the Psychology department needs more money for development, we have an innovative staff, they just need money to further develop the program.	May 9, 2011 12:19 PM
21	The psychology department needs more money to help bring new projects for students to prepare them for Grad School. All classes should be offered at least once a year in class, not always online. The online classes need to be redone and taught better... Not the author of the book teaching the class, but the teachers. The classes are set up to where you can't get an A even if you spend hours studying. Thanks.	May 9, 2011 12:15 PM
22	Needs more focus on the quality of education. Change the structure of how to educate and you will get better results. If the standards are high and you groom the students to reach those standards in and outside the classroom they will either meet them or leave them. But never stop improving the education. That's the key of positive growth	May 9, 2011 12:02 PM
23	In the future I believe KSU needs to manage the facilities to the fullest. From financial aid to registrar and housing. Students should be notified concerning important paperwork matters and phones should be answered during the day concerning over the phone matters. Class availability each semester should be provided sooner so that students can have time to plan their 4 years out to maximize time spent.	May 9, 2011 11:03 AM
24	I feel that KSU sells a dream that it has a hard time living up to.	May 9, 2011 9:59 AM
25	I believe that KSU is a building block for students to become better through their experiences here. Here is where students come, not really knowing who they are, but KSU seems to be the place where they find out who they are and who's they are. I believe that is what KSU embraces that factor overall, this university will help thousands to grow before they leave here and prepare them for the outside world. I believe that bringing other colleges here to speak to the students and also partnering up with other universities in some type of transition program from undergraduate to graduate school will help students be more prepared and willing to go out into the world.	May 6, 2011 4:22 PM
26	You need to expand your graduate studies if you intend to keep students enrolled at KSU post-BA.	May 6, 2011 4:14 PM
27	The registrar's office needs reorganization, and handling of papers and student's requests precipitated.	May 6, 2011 11:27 AM
28	Overall, KSU is a great place to fulfill your undergraduate degree.	May 6, 2011 11:02 AM
29	There is a lack of continuity. Students being used for work study is great but they shouldn't be answering questions for other students. I have received a lot of false information from those in financial aid. Charging 75.00 for a diploma should be included in your tuition. My husband graduated from two other institutions, one private, one state, and he never had to pay for his diploma.	May 6, 2011 9:33 AM

30	Priviledged to earn this degree online to pursue my goals.	May 4, 2011 12:36 PM
31	Professors need to find different strategies to help students learn the material. They also point out that their title is not a teacher, but they should be doing the same thing as a teacher. If we are solely suppose to teach ourselves the knowledge out of the book, colleges should all be shut down and we should be able to buy books strictly for home usage.	May 3, 2011 1:56 PM
32	My case may be unusual, but it seems that I hit every roadblock possible while at KSU. I really enjoyed most of my classes and liked most of my professors very much. I also like my advisor as a person and professor, but as an advisor they had no idea what I needed to do as a pre-vet student. I basically researched and completed all tasks necessary to be admitted to vet school on my own. Also, I ALWAYS had trouble registering, even though I did not have holds on my account, which caused extra hassle in getting the courses I needed. There were also issues with my transcripts not getting to any of the three vet schools to which I applied, financial aid issues, and a parking ticket that was put on my account that I never actually received. On this issue of the parking ticket, I went to the campus police office on three separate occasions to get it taken care of and on all three occasions was told that there was only one woman who could take care of the problem and she wasn't there (my 2nd and 3rd visit were on days when I had previously been told she would be there). I finally just paid it because I didn't want it to be on my account and prevent me from graduating. Overall, I think the professors are (for the most part) awesome, but the administration is disorganized.	May 3, 2011 11:50 AM
33	I have enjoyed my time at KSU and will return for my Masters.	May 3, 2011 11:38 AM
34	Administrators should stay on campus after hours to see what is really going on. The school is presented very well but things you see at night or in the dorms is unacceptable. Coming just for class would be much different than living here 24 hours a day. Many people who work here are not very professional. I would prefer people to be professional more often than not. I don't want to go to parties and hang with my dorm director. I have seen students become buddies with the staff and be allowed to break the rules. It's much harder to get what you're asking for if you're doing it by the book, because no one else is. I think housing should be handled differently. Students should be matched with a lifestyle survey or something similar. There are people living here who have outrageous lifestyles. Student requests to move should be taken more seriously and handled more timely. Hall directors should be more accessible as well as Mr. McDuffie. I understand most students want freedom, but to some students and to parents, structure is safer. There should be a way to get what you need without stalking people. Staff should answer their phones and emails. It is very inconvenient and hard to get information when you are out of town and no one is answering the phone. And it's sad to walk by offices and see people ignoring phone calls and refusing to see students. Perhaps students should be informed as to who is in charge of what so that they know who to speak to, and who to speak to if that person cannot help. Everyone should be on one accord. It is frustrating to have multiple people telling you many different things. Students shouldn't be allowed to continue attending this school if they have been in multiple fights or have had other conduct issues. Police should be out all the time to prevent students from constantly smoking marijuana and having sex in public areas. I will never forget one night at a party in Bell gym I wanted to leave before my friends so I asked a police officer outside to walk me to the dorm and he said no. Many things that made my freshman year enjoyable seem to be gone, such as free/cheap on campus parties, weekend trips to malls, most of greek life. Lastly, and I'm not sure what can be done about this but, profanity is definitely an issue. A student should not be subjected to constant profanity on campus.	May 3, 2011 11:09 AM

35	Some professors need to understand that lifechanging things could be going on in a students personal life that may inflict with their education life and not to dismiss their issues but listen and be concerned.	May 2, 2011 12:46 PM
36	Teach a bit more on leadership. It would be nice to have a leadership elective course. Also have more activities for students who do not go to campus or off campus parties.	May 2, 2011 9:50 AM
37	I believe there should be a greater effort in making education affordable to both local and out-of-state students. The number of international students has tremendously decreased over the years because of the obstacles and financial burden levied on international students. This has been a high achieving demographic for KSU and their presence/ absence on campus is a testament of the efforts to diversify the KSu student population. I also believe that the admission standards, which seems to have been relaxed should be reconsidered to maintain the credibility of the university. It took me longer to graduate because of my financial difficulties but may student stay longer at KSU because of their academic record. This is not something that suddenly happen but it is a reflection of their academic record prior to enrollment. As a student of WYS, I would also like the university to stay true to their Liberal studies goal by encouraging students to not only consider their liberal studies requirements as a mere prerequisite but as tools necessary for achieving true liberal arts education.	Apr 29, 2011 3:56 PM
38	It is a wonderful school. The only think i would change is the way information about graduation is delivered. This semester i was off campus, doing student teaching, and it was until 3 weeks before graduation that i had heard anything about the process. (and that information was through a friend)	Apr 29, 2011 11:51 AM
39	more programs and resources for students, more attention to freshman academic and social success	Apr 29, 2011 11:11 AM
40	I believe the Whitney Young Honors progra, needs to be recognized and funded more. There are many students who decided to take the challenge and apply themselves more through this program, but the program is not given the recognition it's due, nor the funds to help us compare with those honors programs at HBCU's or Universities in general.	Apr 29, 2011 8:58 AM
41	longer library and computer lab hours. more student activities and push for school pride	Apr 28, 2011 2:23 PM
42	The staff in ASB/Cashier/and Police Dept could be a little more friendly and helpful when approaching them. Also I did not have an advisor the first and second year I attended school here and due to not being advised spent more time in school than I would should have. I think now that most of the "bugs" in the SW department have been worked out and I just entered school at a time when turnover was high and was lost in the cracks. Other than those things mentioned above I have enjoyed my studies at KSU and wish I could receive a masters here.	Apr 28, 2011 2:06 PM
43	Would love for Kentucky State to offer more graduate programs. I'm attending UK for graduate school in social work, my first choice would have been Kentucky State if it was offered	Apr 28, 2011 11:44 AM

45	KSU counseling/advising should reach out to students who may not know to seek it initially. Sometimes students are just going through the motion of going to class.	Apr 28, 2011 11:15 AM
46	I love KSU. Despite all the reviews, I believe a person can learn if the person wants to. I LOVE the faculty in the Math and Science Dep and Whitney Young Program. KSU really needs to invest in the Math and Science Dep because every year it produces intellectuals who move on to do big things. It really is sad the state Carver Hall is in. We also need to stimulate student's interests in the environment; increase recycling and using energy friendly appliances. The dorms for instance had shower heads that only bring out water at full blast. There are some adjustable shower heads that would really help in saving water. Also ventilation in Carver Hall and Student Center is very poor. Proper ventilation will save the school hundreds of thousands of dollars because people open windows in the winter because it is too hot, or in the summer because it is too cold. International students need to be properly infused in the KSU society by providing activities and more resources. Overall, my experience at KSU was an enjoyable one and I would not trade it for anything. I believe I am where I am supposed to be and I am excited about graduating.. who ho!!!!!!! 48	I think that Kentucky State needs to put more money into their educational programs instead of secondary events such as homecoming.	Apr 27, 2011 2:20 PM
49	KSU really needs to improve student hands-on experience. Reading a book doesn't prepare you for the real world.	Apr 27, 2011 1:48 PM
50	Improve financial aid department. When a group of students appeal to the dean or president. Hear them out instead of blowing them away. Better security.	Apr 26, 2011 3:22 PM
51	I think Kentucky State University has a lot to offer the community and the surrounding area, however, there is not much advertisement to bring in locals. I also see many areas where they could be more helpful and supportive to students. I have had many instances where I have been unable to come to the school and try to reach staff by phone, and have been unsuccessful.	Apr 26, 2011 2:25 PM
52	It is not about making the university more fun, it is about growing and adapting to our changing world. Technology is advancing and because of that I personally feel as though each generation is digressing. We need to build our incoming freshmen up each year and set the bar higher to let them know that high education does not even open the door as it once did, it simply gives a key. A high school diploma is now equivalent to a bachelor's degree. The student body and faculty and staff need to get along and have a positive relationship with one another.	Apr 26, 2011 1:19 PM
53	KSU is a wonderful institution, but there is still more room to grow. I believe some employees need to be reconsidered because of their attitudes towards bettering the students and the example they are setting.	Apr 26, 2011 11:42 AM
54	If KSU continues to accept inadequate students then they need to develop a strong mentoring program to get them on the right track.	Apr 25, 2011 12:14 PM
