80	I think the administration needs to hold teachers accountable when they are abusing their position. I had a situation where my teacher did not communicate for a full month on blackboard, and it was an online course. Ultimately, we ended up having to take an incomplete in the class. The following semester, he did not communicate with us for the first 4 1/2 weeks of the semester. He then began scheduling meeting times for this online class during the time period of some of the students' other classes. He received no consequences. 1	continue bringing in other races to make it more balanced	Oct 23, 2012 10:13 AM

3	NaTasha Lacey should not be allowed on campus, AT ANY TIME!!!!!!	Jun 7, 2012 2:40 PM
4	I wish the experience was better. Not too many people on this campus care about the studenrs. I will say, there are many people that I have encountered that really do and I am grateful for them. But others who got angry when we weren't happy were unfair. We pay for our education and some people like me will have to pay for 10 years to get our loans paid off. It is imperative to treat the students like that. Pretend they are all working hard for their education and that it comes with a cost. We would LOVE that.	Jun 4, 2012 1:47 PM

6	This could be a great University, i think that by hiring employees that have the student's concerns in mind would help this university grow in many ways. I think that the atmosphere the employees create will effect the attitudes of the students. Look into more prgorams that help students prepare before college. There are too many students taking remedial courses. I would also advise that students go through one on one peer counseling about financial obligations with current students. The transfer rate is extremly too high .	Jun 4, 2012 10:20 AM
7	Take more interest in your students and hire new instructors that have the patience who are willing to work with students to ensure their success in actual learning and not just a pass or fail grade. The instructors should not over load students with work that they aren't putting on their test and quizzes and they should make sure all students get an accurate study guide with information pertaining to the test or quiz so students will study what they need to instead of studying useless information.	Jun 1, 2012 2:21 PM
8	Stronger advertising! I would like to see more KSU commercials on television along with ads in publications.	Jun 1, 2012 11:09 AM
9	Staff, particularly in the ASB building need to take more pride in their jobs and act more professional when it involves the students. The stress is something I could have done without.	May 31, 2012 3:43 PM
10	There needs to be more professionalism in the classroom by professors and students. Too many students come in with an immature mentality and are very disruptive to the rest of the classroom and professors allow for the disruptive nature of these students to happen. Also, the athletics departments is run completely unprofessionally and does not adhere to the high level of competition that it should be at the NCAA division 2 level.	May 31, 2012 3:14 PM

21	As I leave this memorable college, many of the things I would have liked to see implemented are already in the works, eg More business activities in the school of business like a retail store. This gives students an opportunity to have hands on training while learning. The school of business building had some maintanance issues but that is no longer a problem, neither is running water in the fountains. Things are looking up for the school of business. 26	Initial process for registering for class, process for financial and bursar needs improvement. Too many processes. The hours of the cashier's office needs to be later for commuter students. Cashier's office should not be closed for lunch, someone should be there at all times during the office hours.	May 2, 2012 2:54 PM
27	I just want to say that in one incident I had a campus police officer, a white male and I being a white female, be rude to me for no reason. Situation being that I was waiting at a crosswalk and the police car being in the road. I was waiting for the police car to go as he was driving. Instead he blares his horn at me to make me go. I consider that HIGHLY unprofessional and think that respect towards students along with safety standards should be priority. Also I think the parking for commuter students is ridiculous. 28	There is great potential for a good experience for the returning student - this is my frame of reference. I would put in place a system of support where there would be one advisor/counselor to help the returning student acclimate to the school environment.	May 1, 2012 11:02 AM

35	More environmentally friendly	Apr 27, 2012 12:13 PM
36	More graduate programs	Apr 26, 2012 2:55 PM
37	Honestly in my most humble tone, I feel that KSU really should consider an entirely new faculty as far as professors. They've become too friendly and personal with the students which draws away from the true priority at hand. There needs to be much more emphasis placed on the means of quality education being provided to the students that they can carry into their careers.	Apr 26, 2012 12:42 PM
38	Offer more science classes in the fall, spring as well as summer.	Apr 26, 2012 11:47 AM

40	Continue the progress of optimism and positivity and success and excellent students will come.	Apr 25, 2012 3:14 PM
41	In order for this institution to thrive there has to be a better conection between upper level administration and the administration students are in contact with. I love this university because of the rich culture and quality of education I have recieved, but there are many minor problems that often over shadow the greatness within this institution.	Apr 25, 2012 1:50 PM
42	Although I believe that KSU is an great institution of higher learning, there are just a couple things that we can improve upon, with that being more events for students to get more involved. Also improve on the outside athletic facilites such as the track, football, and baseball field, which could help to bring in more money at our institution.	Apr 25, 2012 1:43 PM

50	evvaluations need to be done on all their current staff	Apr 24, 2012 10:24 AM

54	I think that Kentucky State University as a school is a great school, but the student government, and the students are not involved enough on the campus. Also it seems like a bigger high school instead of a college. Also I feel that there need to be more scholarships for out of state students offer here as well.	Apr 23, 2012 11:24 AM

60	Please look into the treatment of students at Financial Aid. Many students are treated with disrespect at this first and crucial step upon entering the university and get more hassle, stress, and run-arounds than are necessary or helpful. Students should feel welcomed and appreciated here, not like a burden or problem.	Apr 18, 2012 3:38 PM
