

Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP)

Risk Management Options for America's Agricultural Producers

Learn About NAP

Many U.S. producers utilize Federal crop insurance programs to help manage production and market risks.

What About Non-Insurable Crops?

The Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP), administered by USDA's Farm Services Agency, provides financial assistance to producers of non-insurable crops to protect against natural disasters that results in lower

Learn About NAP!

How does NAP work?

How much does NAP cost?

Where do I register for NAP?

What crops are covered by NAP?

What are NAP's eligibility requirements?

Training Session

When: Thursday, July 19, 2018, 11:00 am

Where: Harold R. Benson Research Farm, 1525 Mills Lane
Frankfort, KY 40601

Who: CSU Staff, Extension Agents, and Local Producers

Contact: Shelley Spiggle, 502-597-6325 (shelley.spiggle@kysu.edu)

Trainer: John Mangus

jmangus@casnow.com /406-698-3770 (mobile)

Sponsored by the USDA Specifically for 1890 Institutions

www.USDA.gov

Coordinated by Delaware State University www.DESU.edu

and Delivered by AgRAEIS

www.AgRAEIS.com

These Institutions are Equal Opportunity Providers